

IOSH Leading Safely

Business leaders also need to lead on health and safety. IOSH Leading Safely aims to squarely focused on coaching you to become an effective leader for health and safety. Uniquely, it comes with a diagnostic tool (a mobile app) to help you analyse your current health and safety leadership performance and, most importantly, devise action plans to improve.

The IOSH Leading Safely course is workshop based, highly personalised and focused on your organisational needs.

It complements IOSH Safety for Executives and Directors which focuses on ensuring senior management are fully aware of their joint and individual health and safety responsibilities in the day-to-day running of their organisation.
